

CATHERINE LOUIS

Catherine is a French photographer and director based in Paris. Her photography has a sharp point of view on passion, detail and composition, virtues that extend to her filmmaking. Her very feminine and highly sensual style, paired with her fascination for bodies in dance and fashion shows an intimate, refined touch. After shooting with several celebrated actresses and models in her stills and commercials work for many brands over the years, Catherine has just finished her first short film "Marla" – a beautiful black and white journey.
